

PILLAR 01 - INITIAL EXPOSURE

Before patients call, they've already formed an impression.

A SEARCH & DIRECTORIES

They find you through a search, an insurance directory, or a referral. Is what they find accurate and consistent?

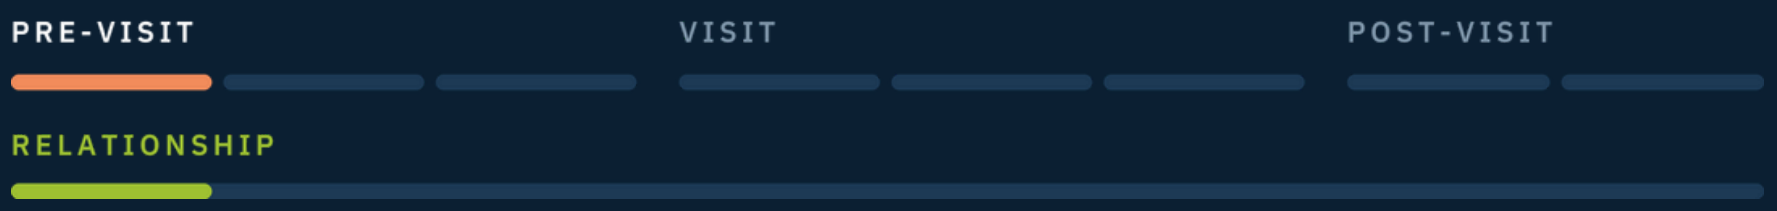

B YOUR WEBSITE

Can they tell, in secondes, who you treat, what you do, and whether you take insurance?

C REVIEWS & REPUTATION

What are other patients saying about you, and is anyone responding?

Your first touchpoint happens before anyone on your team knows the patient exists.

PHASE 01 - INITIAL EXPOSURE

Where Initial Exposure breaks down

1

COMMUNICATION PROBLEM

Hours, addresses, phone numbers, or provider lists don’t match from one listing to the next.

2

ACCESS PROBLEM

There’s no clear next step. The way to call or book is buried, or leads to a dead end.

3

FINANCIAL CLARITY PROBLEM

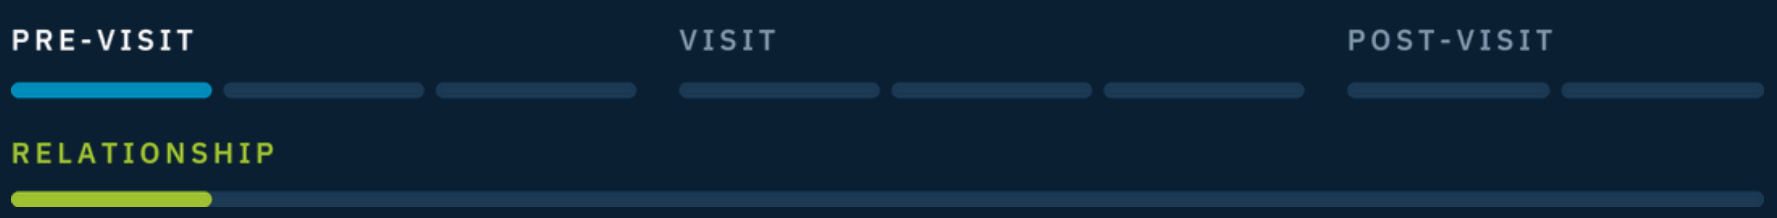

Accepted insurance Isn’t listed, so patients have to guess, or they have to call to ask.

4

HANDOFF PROBLEM

Referred patients arrive knowing your name, but not who you are or why they were sent.

Patients rarely report these breakdowns. They just choose someone else.

YOUR DIAGNOSTIC

Check your own practice.

Q1 Search your practice the way a new patient would. Is every listing accurate: hours, address, phone, providers?

Q2 On your homepage, can a visitor quickly see who you treat, which insurance you accept, and how to book?

Q3 Who reads and responds to your reviews, and when did they last do it?

Q4 Do referring offices give patients anything that explains who you are and what happens next?

If patients can't find you clearly, they can't choose you.

Not sure where to start? The PX360 Assessment evaluates the patient experience across the full journey.
